President's Message

I write this with a heavy heart following the news of Kathy Yates' untimely passing this past Saturday. She had disclosed her illness to the club at our September Dinner Meeting and asked for our support and now she is gone – far too soon. It makes me mindful that we should invest the time with all our new and long-term Altrusa members to get to know them and be at the ready to support them in times of need. We are all busy with our lives, our families and the other community commitments we support, but time and life are fleeting and we need to maximize the kindness we share with all we come into contact with.

The Seniors Committee helped us with our October program by hosting Appletree Court's Marketing Director Phyliss Jones as our speaker. Her topic touched on senior needs in the community as well as our long-term partnership with the facility and its residents. Her talk was meaningful and timely and she spent some quality time answering our questions and letting her Managing Director and owner speak about these issues as well. The Sophomore Sisters are hard at work gathering books to be sent to active military and brought cards to the meeting for us to add notes to.

I look forward to seeing all of you at the Awards Luncheon on Friday, November 2 at the Renaissance Dallas Richardson Hotel – it will be a magical event with a record number of honorees and I hope, attendees. Please help welcome and celebrate our sponsors and honorees on this important day.

Community Outreach did a stellar job gathering coats and toys for the Network holiday distribution – and we owe Jackie Scrivener and Christine Hart a big round of applause for their unflagging efforts on this project as well as the entire committee.

Five members – Bobbi Klein, Pam Johnson, Nancy Rohm, Mary Osentowski and Kimberly Kierce from our Richardson club attended the District Nine Leadership Conference in San Antonio on October 20. I am sorry that I was unable to go and can't wait to hear about what these leaders learned from other clubs in District Nine.

A new Nominating Committee will be convened in November and I hope all of you will consider a leadership position with the club in the upcoming club year as we move forward. If you have questions about what is entailed, please reach out to a current or past board member for their input. We all want to support and encourage each other as we provide service to our community.

CLUB BOARD OF DIRECTORS UPDATE

September Board Meeting Notes

By Bobbi Klein, President-Elect

The Board of Directors met on October 25. Vice President Toni Garret has had to resign due to family obligations. The President will appoint a member to serve out the remaining term. The major topic discussed was reduction of the size of the club Board of Directors. The Board will bring a recommendation the club for consideration soon in regard to this issue.

DISTRICT NINE ACCENT

We Host District Nine Conference in 2020 – Update

An informal Steering Committee of several past presidents and club members met at Nancy Rohm's house after the New Member Orientation on October 6th. Governor Linda Moore requested that we submit the names of Conference Chairs and Conference Treasurer for approval at the District Nine Board of Directors meeting on October 19. Conference Co-Chairs, Carol Ruszkowski and Mary Beth McLemore and Conference Treasurer, Nancy Rohm were presented and approved by the District Board. All Conference Co-Chairs are beginning to put their teams together.

The first order of business is the vetting of possible conference hotel locations, which will be presented to the district Board for consideration and selection. Members of the conference committee will begin visiting hotels on November 12.

This is our chance to demonstrate what a great club we are. Please be thinking about where you can be of help.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH COMMITTEE UPDATE

Donation of Children's Coats and Christmas Toys to NETWORK

By Jackie Scrivener

Altrusa's Community Outreach Committee had a busy month in October. They purchased 63 children's coats and delivered them to NET-WORK'S Clothes Closet .

NETWORK operates a clothes closet to service Richardson families in need. For the past three years, the Outreach Committee has purchased gently used coats from Goodwill Industries to donate to the Clothes Closet. Altrusa's donation will bring warmth to our most precious citizens, our children.

Community Outreach also organized a toy drive to benefit NETWORK'S "Toyland Express." This project makes it possible for qualifying parents to shop for their children from November 12 thru December 14 using "Santa Bucks." Altrusans generously donated a large trunk load of toys at the October 18 dinner meeting. Thanks to everyone's donations, many children will have smiles on their faces Christmas morning. Altusan service makes a difference.

ABILITY HOUSE COMMITTEEUPDATE

Fall — Halloween Party at Ability House

By Rosemary Gouger

Oh, how we wish you could have all been there! The house was decorated for Halloween. There were, cupcakes and ice cream; plus, Halloween cookies and candy corn. We played Halloween JINGO, the old shell game with cups and candy pumpkins. Everyone got a prize because they didn't know that Sara Deats had put a candy pumpkin under every one of the cups.... every time. No losers here!

Sara is an entertainment Master! She brought a great big pumpkin and all kinds of "Mr. Potato Head" type of decorations to make funny faces.

Cindy Murray, Foundation Treasurer, spoke about the duties of the Foundation and Foundation Trustees

Rosemary Gouger talked about the Ability House project and introduced the residents

Many thanks to Nancy Rohm for being the "hostess with the mostest" for this gathering! It was a time for eating great food and sharing information about committees and projects. Rosemary Gouger brought pictures and stories about the residents at Ability House. Needless to say, it brought tears to our eyes. Cindy Murray shared information about the Foundation side of our club; Bonnie Perry talked about a Methodist Hospital blanket project; Sue McElveen and Robbin Murley updated us on the Sophomore sisters book project for our military at home and abroad and also talked about KAN weekend; Jane Tucker talked about the "Day for Girls" project; and Mary Osentowski shared with us the Grant procedure and who were the recipients for this club year.

But believe me when I say it was not all talk!!!!

We found some real hidden talents that truly had us all rolling in the aisles with laughter. One of those talents included being a kid again and making and flying paper airplanes. Two groups were formed and the Queen Bees won the competition. One pilot actually had her plane do a round trip flight – plane came right back to her like a booma-rang. Never seen anything like that before.

Susan Fisher brought along her work out hula hoop (much heavier than the plastic ones we find in the stores). Much to our amazement and laughter, she and several others showed just how talented and agile they were in making it swirl. She also shared with us her love of knitting and how it was benefitting kids all over the world.

We laughed and cried. I think this was a successful meeting. Many thanks to all that came.

UN Day, October 24 and Other Observances

From www.un.org and www.who.int

World Science Day: November 10, 2018 Celebrated every 10 November, World Science Day for Peace and Development highlights the significant role of science in society and the need to engage the wider public in debates on emerging scientific issues. It also underlines the importance and relevance of science in our daily lives.

By linking science more closely with society, World Science Day for Peace and Development aims to ensure that citizens are kept informed of developments in science. It also underscores the role scientists play in broadening our understanding of the remarkable, fragile planet we call home and in making our societies more sustainable.

International Day for Tolerance: November 16, 2018 The United Nations is committed to strengthening tolerance by fostering mutual understanding among cultures and peoples. This imperative lies at the core of the United Nations Charter, as well as the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and is more important than ever in this era of rising and violent extremism and widening conflicts that are characterized by a fundamental disregard for human life.

In 1996, the UN General Assembly (by resolution 51/95) invited UN Member States to observe the International Day for Tolerance on 16 November. This action followed up on the United Nations Year for Tolerance, 1995, proclaimed by the UN General Assembly in 1993 at the initiative of UNESCO, as outlined in the Declaration of Principles on Tolerance and Follow-up Plan of Action for the Year.

Universal Children's Day: November 20,2018 United Nations Universal Children's Day was established in 1954 and is celebrated on November 20th each year to promote international togetherness, awareness among children worldwide, and improving children's welfare.

November 20th is an important date as it is the date in 1959 when the UN General Assembly adopted the Declaration of the Rights of the Child. It is also the date in 1989 when the UN General assembly adopted the Convention on the Rights of the Child. Since 1990, Universal Children's Day also marks the anniversary of the date that the UN General Assembly adopted

International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women: November 25, 2018 Violence against women and girls is one of the most widespread, persistent and devastating human rights violations in our world today.

Violence against women is the most extreme form of discrimination. According to the aforementioned report, on the basis of data from 2005 to 2016 for 87 countries, 19 per cent of women between 15 and 49 years of age said they had experienced physical and/or sexual violence by an intimate partner in the 12 months prior to the survey. In the most extreme cases, such violence can lead to death. In 2012, almost half of all women who were victims of intentional homicide worldwide were killed by an intimate partner or family member, compared to 6 per cent of male victims.

Another extreme case of violence against women is female genital mutilation/cutting. This harmful practice has declined by 24 per cent since around 2000. Nevertheless, prevalence remains high in some of the 30 countries with representative data. In those countries, survey data from around 2015 indicate that more than 1 in 3 girls between 15 and 19 years of age have undergone the procedure compared to nearly 1 in 2 girls around 2000.

Moreover, only just over half (52 per cent) of women between 15 and 49 years of age who are married or in a relationship make their own decisions about consensual sexual relations and use of contraceptives and health services. That statistic is based on available data from around 2012 for 45 countries, 43 of which are in developing regions.

Research also shows that achieving gender equality helps in preventing conflict, and high rates of violence against women correlates with outbreaks of conflict. Despite the evidence, actions for women's inclusion, leadership and protection remain inadequate.
